"This is a 'win-win' for everyone. The key decision point behind our deploying these kiosks, was our ongoing need to get better and more accurate information from our patients. At the same time, we are extremely interested in improving our patients' experience when they enter our facilities. With the Clearwave kiosks, we've decreased the average check-in time from seven to three minutes."

- Bill Hannah, chief financial officer, Piedmont Heart Institute
